

CLAIMS

1. . A plant support and container, comprising:
an enclosure generally cylindrical and having open ends and side 5 portions, each side portion being configured to accept and surround a plant, the side portions being secured by means to keep the side portions in place so as to support the plant.